BUYING ORDERS ARE PLENTIFUL

Market Has an Old-Time Bull Swing.

SOME PRICES CARRIED HIGH

Pennsylvania Sells at 140, Reading at 98, and Rock Island

NEW YORK, June 23. - During the first hour the trading on the stock mar-ket had the swing of an old-time bull market. Buying orders for large blocks were put in many stocks, and, although the supply was larger than at any time since the beginning of the week, the de mand continued large enough to absorb all stocks offered around current quotaions. In several issues prices were carried to the highest range reached in a long period. Pennsylvania sold at 140, Reading at 98, and Rock Island at 30%. Brothers bought 5,000 shares of Reading.

brokers sold fully 40,000 shares of stock during the first hour, and the supply of stock from this source helped hold the international shares in check although it did not cause any material decline. The impression pervails that the market will reach higher levels as soon as the arbitrage selling for London account is exhausted or the London selling ceases this afternoon.

Metropolitan sold at the opening ex dividend of 1% per cent. Provost Brothers bought Delaware and Hudson again this morning. American Hide and Leather preferred was under pressure at the opening and declined to 34%, the selling apparently being based, like that of yesterday afternoon, on expected suspension of dividend payments. Some support came in on the decline and railied the price to 37.

Government bonds unchanged; other bonds steady.

COTTON SENTIMENT GROWS MORE BULLISH

by the South.

Sentiment among traders appeared to grow more builish as prices rose, the idea gaining ground that the estimates for a small crop perhaps had some basis in fact after all. Yet, a hard fight was put up by leading bears, and it was effective for a time in weakening October to 8.93, in face of the better cable, but at the expense of a considerably enlarged short interest.

NEW YORK, June 23.—A good many buying orders accumulated over night and caused the local cotton market to open firm and 3 to 5 points higher. Spot houses appeared to be taking July and commission firms had good buying orders in October and December. Further heavy rains in Texas and Arkansas explained some of the buying by the South.

These overtrustful bears, it would seem, had failed to allow for the growth of optimistic sentiment consequent upon three days of uninterrupted advancing prices, nor did they reckon upon the general acceptance by the public of the report as a significant intimation that the affairs of the Equitable were being closely watched, and that no further juggling with the policyholders' money would be with the policyholders' money would be These overtrustful bears, it would seem, had failed to allow for the growth of affairs of the Equitable were being close-ly watched, and that no further juggling with the policyholders' money would be tolerated. The marked increase in the volume of commission business which the day witnessed would appear to have been due to a very general realization that with the publication of Superintendent Hendricks' report the Equitable has passed from the scene as an acutely depressing influence upon the market. As long as the report was prospective, speculation run riot as to its probable tone, and this in itself served as a potent influence in unsettling values. The fact that Superintendent Hendricks' report has falled to disclose the slightest impairment of the society's enormous surplus should be accepted by Wall Street yesterday, as an assurance that notifine of this kind exists and that the Equitable stands today as financially impregnable as at any time in its past history. Indeed, it Superintendent Hendricks' views be sustained by the courts, the society is financially stronger today than it ever was, and the surplus is in reality greater than the figures that the last annual report disclosed, that is, if Mr. Hendricks' theory be correct and the amount realized in the syndicate operations go to swell the gigantic surplus.

he received at the colleges he visited and upon the receipt of the unusual degree of 'Doctor of Human Letters,' which was conferred upon him by Williams University.

That the Chinese question is a serious one is fully realized by President Roosevelt and his Cabinet, What they are considering is by what means the Administration can straighten out the tangle pending the convening of Congress.

Some Cabinet officers hold that a less drastic enforcement of the immigration and exclusion laws would have the desired effect. Many Chinese, it is said, are kept out when they should be allowed to enter as members of the exempt classes.

Taft for Moderation.

War, upon leaving the White House. be done. Many Chinese have been arrested that should have been allowed to enter. Less attention should be paid to hunting down Chinese who are inocent. "The trouble is that if the Chinese once get it into their heads that they are being badly treated we will never be able to separate them from the idea. No one who knows the Six Companies doubts their ability to carry out a boycott once they start."

Favors Strict Enforcement.

Secretary Metcalf, on the other hand, upholds the administration of the exclusion laws and thinks nothing can be done until Congress convenes. The law s responsible, thinks the Secretary of commerce and Labor, and not the manner in which it is enforced.

ner in which it is enforced.

"I have frequently pointed out," said Mr. Metcaif, "that the trouble lies largely with the student class. Many Chinese come to America as students who are not really students at all. The immigration inspectors have been taken in so often that they have grown strict in their examinations of the stuednts.

"Moreover, one must remember that a large part of China is closed to forto enter only at certain Chinese ports." eigners, and that Aemricans are allowed to enter only at certain Chinese ports."

According to reports from China, the situation has grown serious there, and the boycott is about to be declared.

Cotton Report Leak.

In regard to the cotton leak investigation in the Department of Agricul-ture, Secretary Wilson stated at the White House today that inspectors were still at work but that he could not say when their report would be ready. "By my orders, they are tracing down even the smallest hint or rumor," Mr. Wilson said, "and if there is anything wrong it will be discovered."

Secryctary Morton attended his last Cabinet meeting today. As President Rooseveit will leave Washington on Monday, there will be no more Cabinet meetings until his return, in the autumn, unless circumstances should necessitate his calling the members of the Cabinet together at Oyster Bay during the summer.

POPULAR PLATE PRINTER RUNS FROM SANITARIUM

Local police have been asked to main ain a lookout for John Griffin, twentyeight years old, and a popular plate printer, employed in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

He has been ill for some time. Several months ago he was sent to the seritarium at Catonville, Md.
On the evening of June 8 he escaped from the institution. Since then has not been seen or heard of. Griffin's wife lives at 2321 H street northwest. Griffin is a member of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and several other social and secret organizations in Washington. Overwork at the bureau is believed to have impaired his health and men-tality. He is described as five feet six inches tell, about 145 pounds in weight, and with a heavy crop of thick, bushy black hair.

Railroad Laborer Hurt.

At work on the Union Station, Second and K streets northeast, Pargeneo Donuizzio, an Italian railroad laborer, fell from an embankment and received a severe cut on his head. Police of the Ninth precinct sent him to the Casualty Hospital. Physicians there took several stitches in the wound and sent him to his home, 144 Schott's alley northeast.
